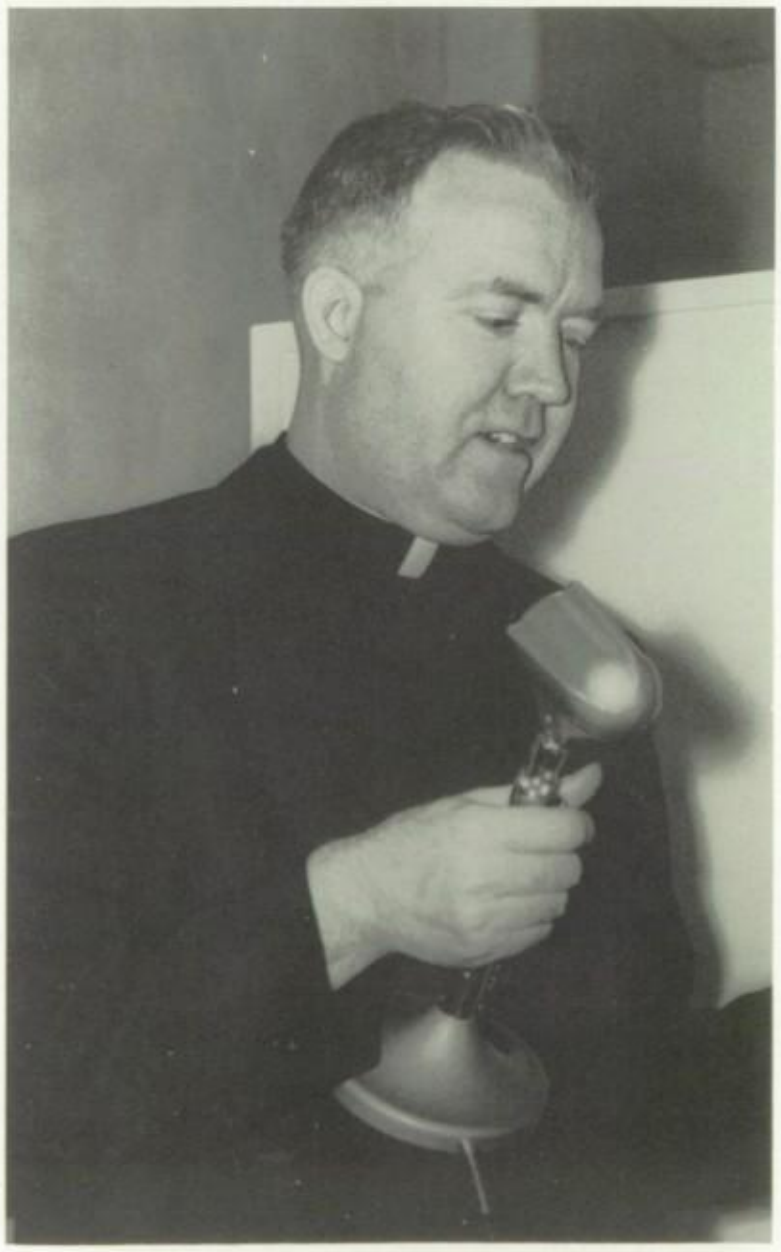
VIII ADVERTISEMENTS AND PATRONS



Being a part of the active life of a student at St. Peter's High School is getting to class before the bell sounds. It is listening to announcements and receiving individual attention with study problems. Lunch is a time for being part of the group. A time for miscellaneous chattering about the morning or congregating at the juke box.

The academics are an integral part of each student's life. The pleasure of art, the concentration of study hall, the quiet of the library, the clatter of the business room, and the seriousness of a chemistry lab period, form the spectrum of parts of a day.

A TIME TO CELEBRATE THE LIVING WORD IN TIME

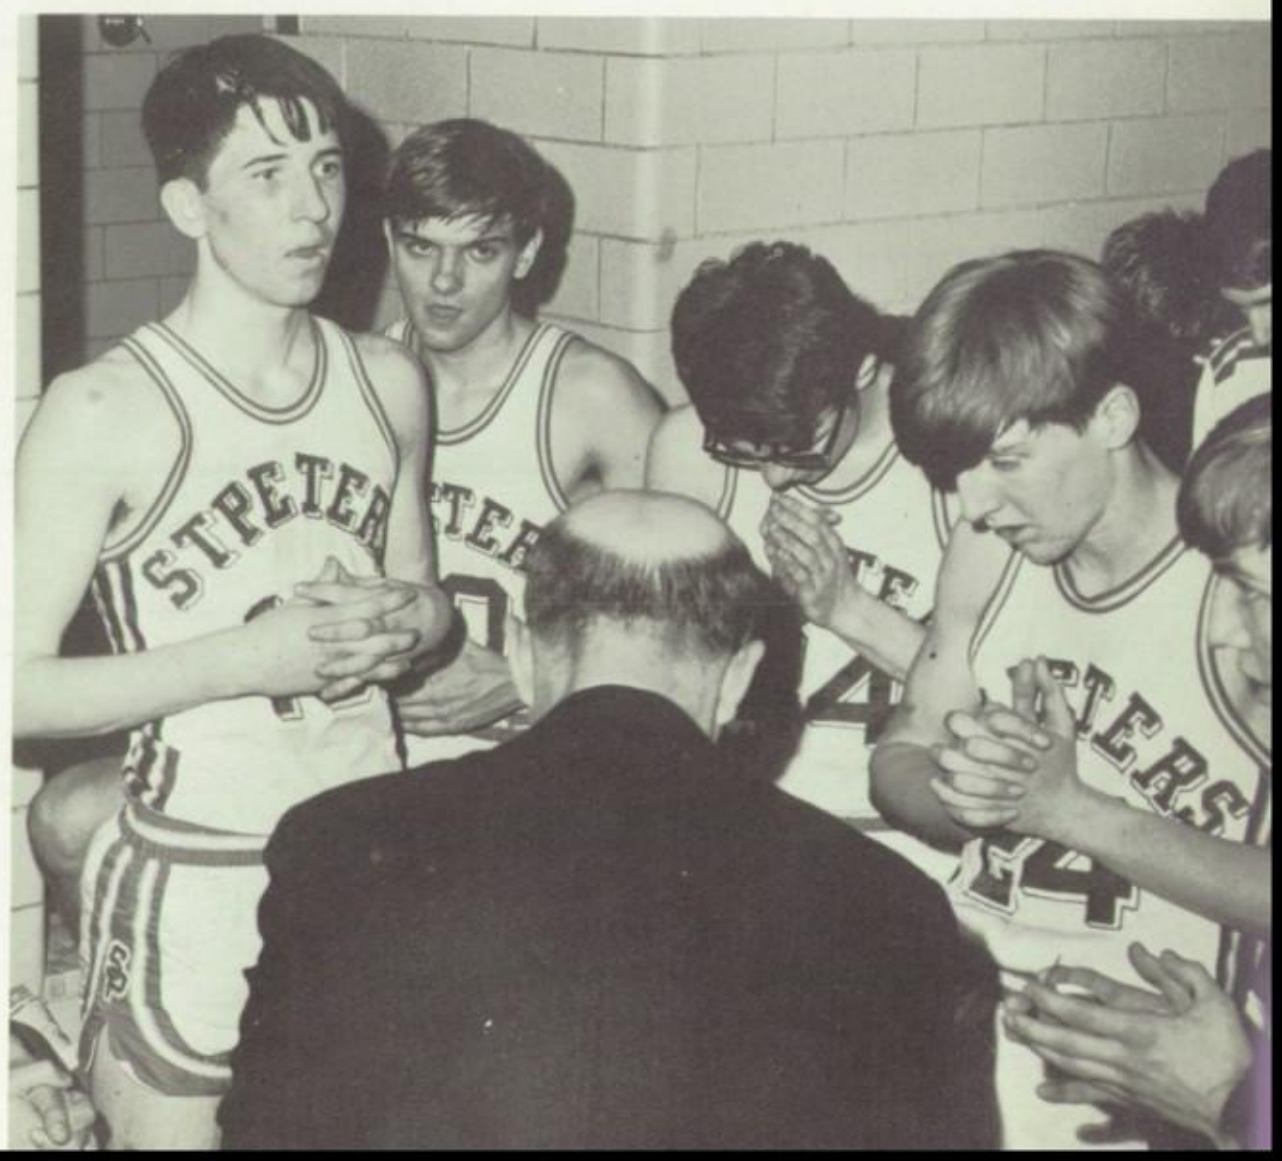
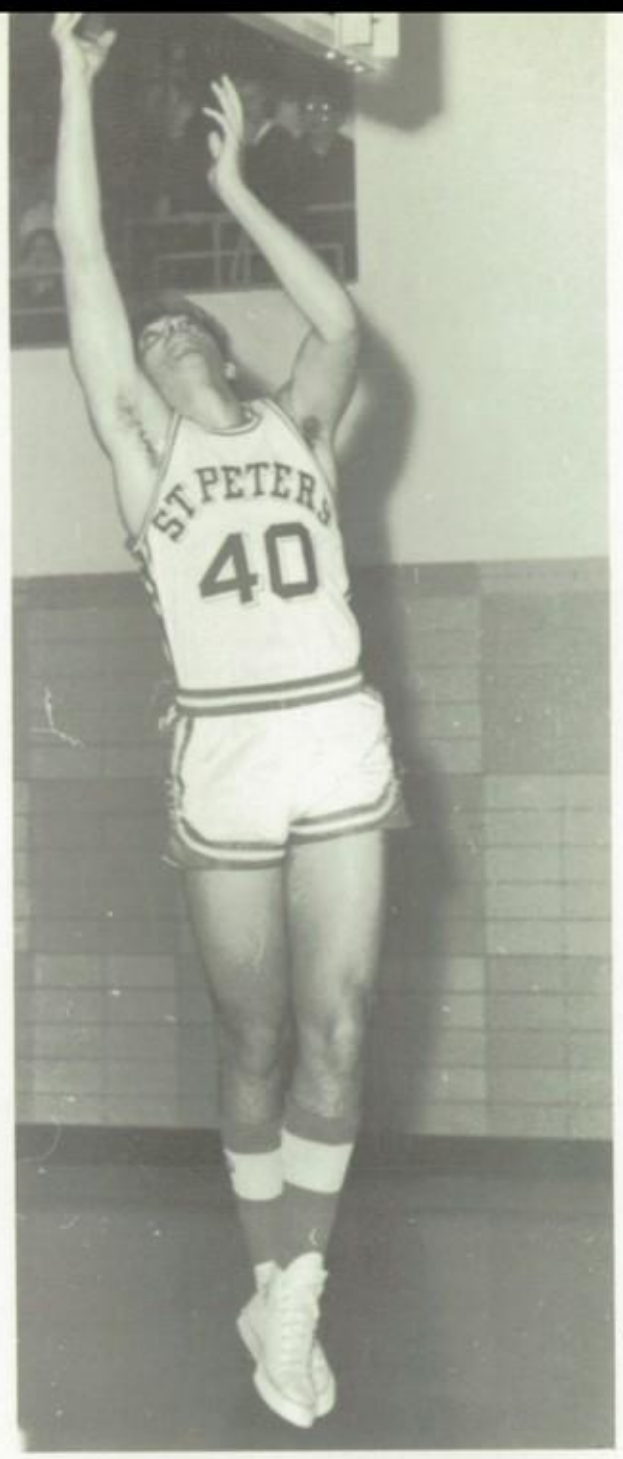
Prayer permeates the day's activity and gay banners express youth's attitudes. The solemn moment of the blessing, group prayers before class and a fervent plea to the Lady of Victory, are ever present reminders of our reliance on God.





ST. PETER'S

Sports! Being on a winning team. Worrying through a tense moment. Scoring two points. Whacking the ball over the net. Putting on the green. Cheering yourself hoarse. Saying "We're Number One" and knowing it. All this is being a part of Athletics at our school.

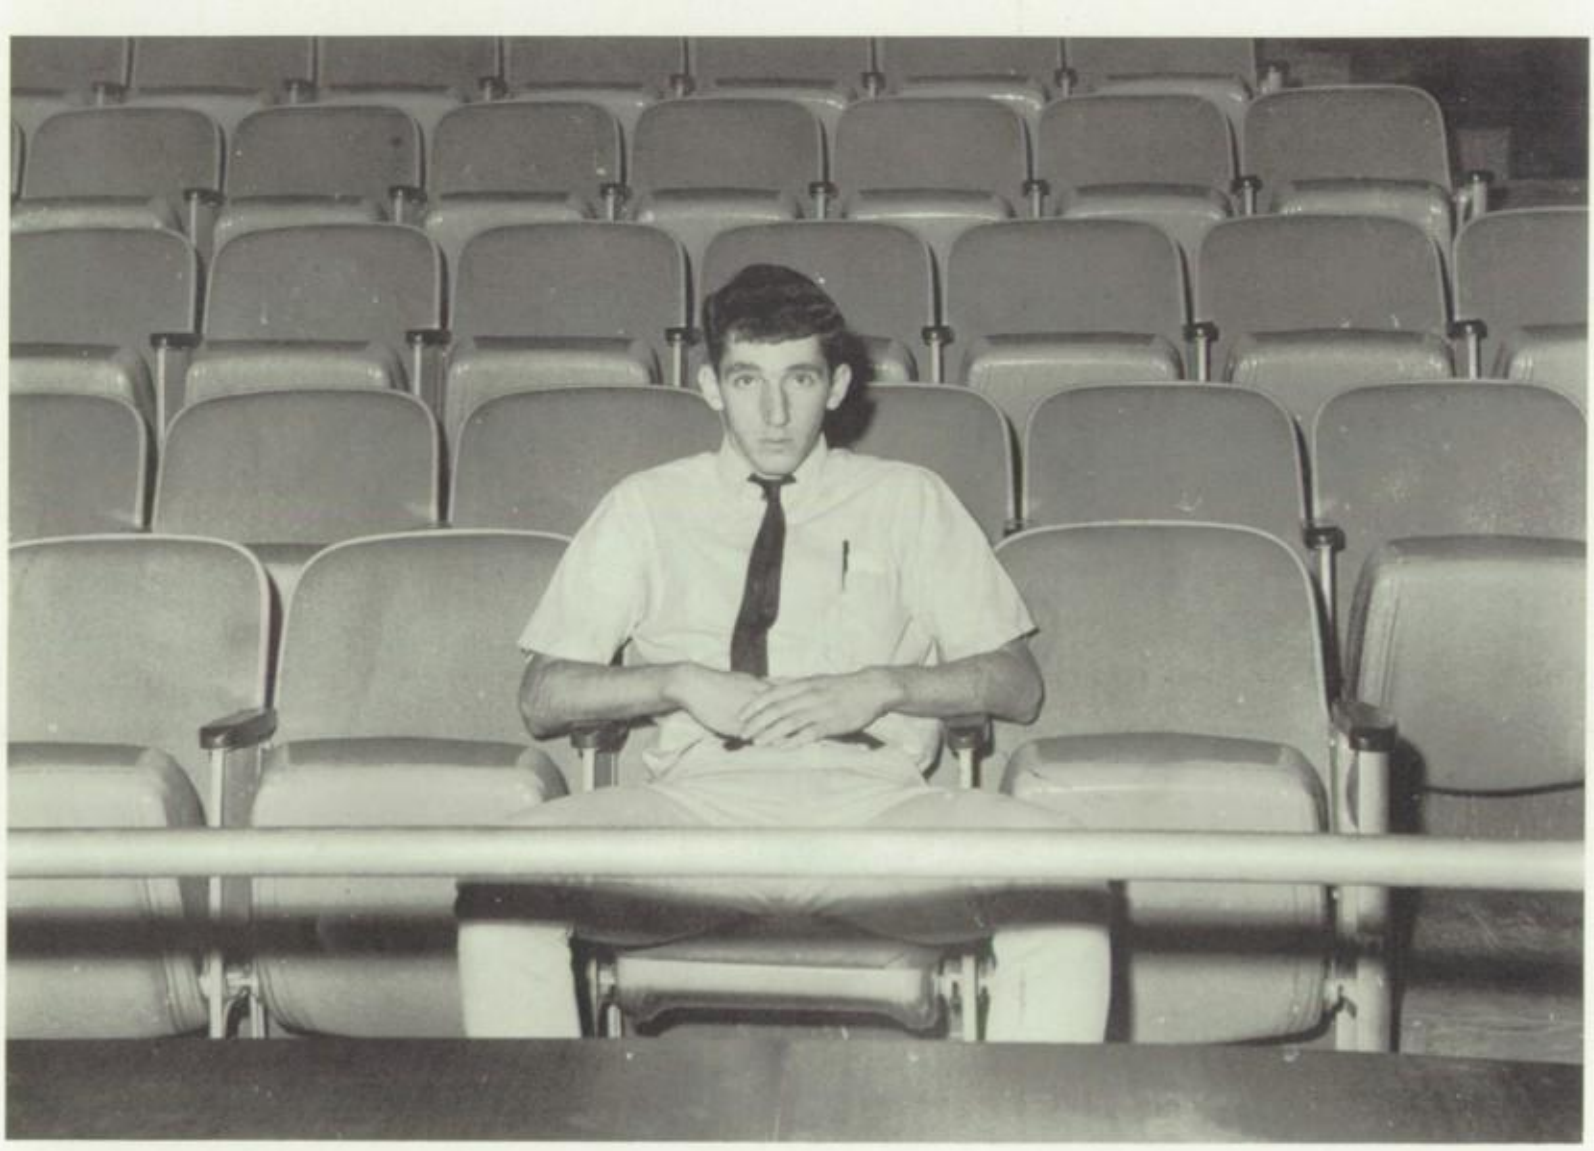
School is out! The clock strikes 2:40 and the last bell has rung for the day. There is a rush to lockers, cars and buses as students leave the world of equations, formulas, and participles.

A time to be together is a part of student life. Being together is a walk to the next class and an S-Section practice. It is congratulating a team member after the State Championship, helping a friend during an experiment and teamwork on a basketball floor.

A time to be alone means a solitary moment. It can mean seeking privacy to work a few seconds of private pride while surrounded by a crowd. It is personal achievement or thinking things out alone.

Everyone has a basic need to belong, yet each person must be himself.



It seems that Fr. Leyland has the Christmas spirit.

Among his other duties, Fr. Siefker often said Mass in the convent.

Faculty and administration are an important part of St. Peter's High School. The teachers and their subjects make the school. During the year, they help us learn, and by learning we become people who are aware of our world and the part we play in it.

The ABC's of Geometry are explained by Mr. Devan as he ponders over his textbook.

Visual aids, used by Mr. Foster, make Spanish less complicated.

Members of Guidance Department discuss school affairs.

More than a regular classroom subject, religion is the underlying theme of student's life. Dedicated teachers made Christian teachings come alive with thought provoking class discussions. Class periods were devoted to special dialogue masses which put religious worship on a personal basis.

Grammer and word usage were stressed in English class, and students recited Shakespeare's works verbatim. Excitement, however, was brought into the year with the inception of the "Scapan", for it gave the contributors a chance to see their work in print.

LANGUAGES ARE A POPULAR STUDENT ELECTIVE

Nearly all the students at S.P.H.S. take a foreign language course during their high school career. They are given a chance to observe the fascinating patterns of conjugations and declensions and try their skill at memorizing irregular verbs. It takes a special kind of teacher to add sufficient interest to a "dead language" like Latin. It takes real experience to teach something so completely foreign to a student as French or Spanish. Our teachers also worked to present their subject so it will have an application in later life.

Friendly assistance in conjugating French verbs is given to Kathy Dievendorf by Miss Baddour.

TEACHERS FORM MATH AND SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENTS

Math and Social Studies are required subjects so that those who teach them become acquainted with every student in the school. In their classes, students learn to become different people; during math-logical people; during social studies—people involved with their heritage.

TEACHERS USED THE CANTEEN TOO!

A "get-together" is a necessity for teachers but solitude also plays an important part in their lives.

TEACHERS OF VARIED SUBJECTS WORKED TO

Sister M. DePadua, M.F.A.
Catholic University of America
English 2, Art 1,2,3,4; Art Appreciation

Thoughts of the classroom were forgotten for a moment when teachers from various departments bowed to their interest in the arts and devoted many hours of work to the "Fine Arts Festival." Mrs. Butler, who daily instructs a journalism class was responsible for the choreography. Sr. Matthias Marie, the business education teacher, gave invaluable assistance to the students who did the programs, and Sr. DePadua, the art instructor, helped ready her pupils' art exhibits for presentation.

The Fine Arts Festival was a success thanks to the tireless efforts of Sr. Laurelle, who rehearsed many pages of new music with members of the chorale groups involved. Mrs. Garrett, who teaches speech, also had much rehearsing to take part in, as she worked with her speech classes on their presentations, and served as director of the festival.

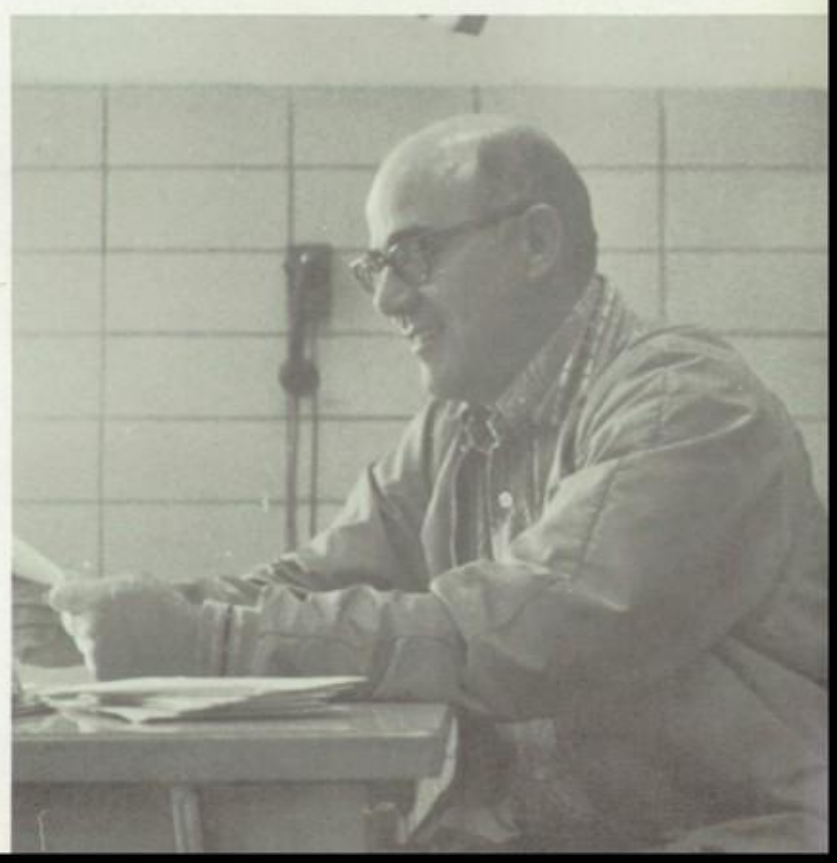
Mr. Robert Frye, B.S.
University of Southern California
Physical Education

In addition to their coaching duties, Coaches' Tim Jordan, Bob Frye and Ron Barbo, conduct regular classes. This year, their pride in the achievements of their students was augmented by their pride in coaching a team to the number one slot in the state.



Much work in school is done through the efforts of volunteers like Mrs. Thomas McHale.

School is learning by cooperative experimenting with facts of knowledge shared between students and teachers.

CLASS OFFICERS PLAN SENIOR ACTIVITIES

Tom Moloney, president; Carol Mott, secretary; Audrey Pfeifer, vice-president; and Tom Kulka, treasurer prepare for a busy schedule in May.

'68 was a year of firsts. Seniors turned out the first yearbook since 1959, and helped bring home a State Basketball Championship from the Columbus tourney. There was also the retreat at Bergamo and the thrill of opening night of the Sr. Class Play.

The Prom, Senior Assembly, Baccalaureate, and Graduation ended a wonderful year.

DIALOGUE HELPS THE DAY

After lunch Sue Schmidt and Lauren Braudo stop to chat on the stairs.

SENIOR AUTOGRAPHS

Final exams . . .

Senior Week is the very last week of school. This week consists of final exams, a free lunch in the cafeteria, cleaning out lockers which have collected junk throughout the school year and being with friends for one final time.

FINAL WEEK FILLED WITH FUN

Junky lockers . . .

A free lunch . . .

Good friends . . .

A SYMPHONY OF SPRINGTIME

Friends chat during pre-prom party at Brian Joyce's house.

"Symphony of Springtime" set the mood for the senior prom, held at the Leland Motor Hotel ballroom, May 18.

Upon arriving all couples passed through a receiving line made up of faculty members and class officers.

As a remembrance of the evening, each girl was presented a prom bid. Carrying out the theme of the prom the bid had a floral display of daisies on the front cover.

Music for the evening was provided by the Cliches. Parents of the seniors were invited as guests of honor. Chaperone duties were shared by the parents of the class officers and senior officers of Student Council.

Can't get enough of dancing is Mary Hogan and John Flood with their dates.

Intermission is a time to meet friends.

There is a little time alone for Doug Alt and his date on such a busy night.

A quick trip to the powder room leaves the boys behind.

Gold tassels are given to Lauren Braudo and Harry Levins.

The Social Science award is accepted by John Graf.

Senior class presents Ron Ruley with $100 scholarship.

HONOR AWARDS

An introduction of the senior boys is made by Tom Moloney.

Junior president Joe Sedlak accepts the class key.

Secretary of S.C. Ann Wala receives leadership award.

As Audrey Pfeifer and Jim Dalton receive their yearbook awards, Father Siefker congratulates them.

Secretary Carol Mott introduces senior girls.

At an assembly on May 24 seniors received awards for service during four years of high school.

President Tom Moloney presented the class key to the juniors with best wishes for a great senior year.

Trophies were awarded to outstanding boy Judd Jensen and outstanding girl Ann Wala.

For the first time the senior class presented a $100 scholarship to Ron Ruley.

Father Siefker, with the help of senior moderator, Sister Mathias Marie, presented the awards.

The Blessed Virgin is honored as Maureen Glaze places the wreath of flowers on her head.

SENIORS HONOR MARY IN MAY

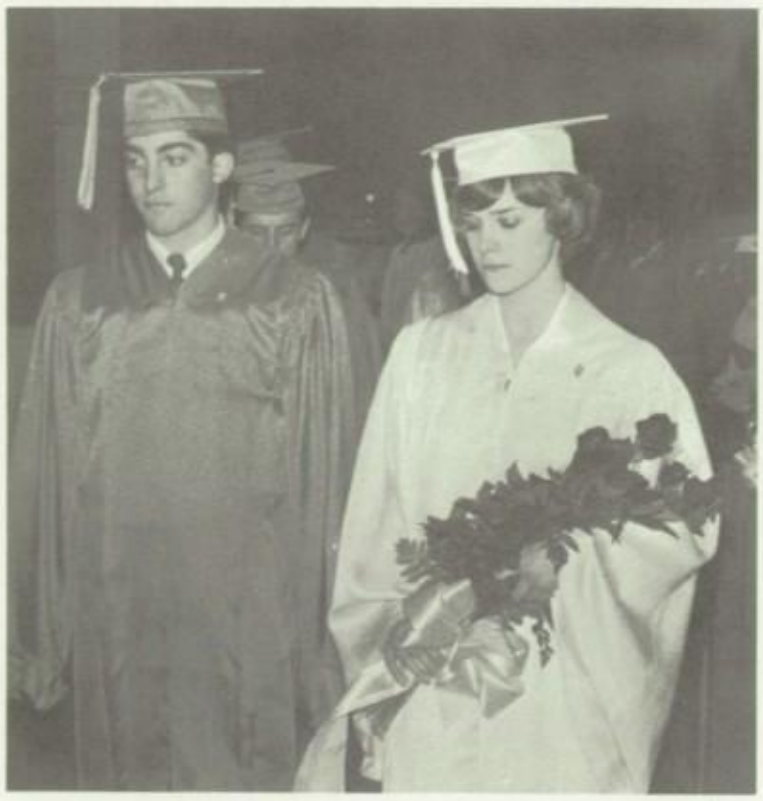
Maureen Glaze was chosen by her classmates to place the crown upon the Blessed Virgin at the annual May Crowning ceremonies, May 24.

Attending Maureen, who was escorted by Ron Scherer, were Ann Wala, escorted by Jim Subich, and Cathy Wiegman, escorted by Ted Mecurio.

Seniors dressed in caps and gowns walked in procession.

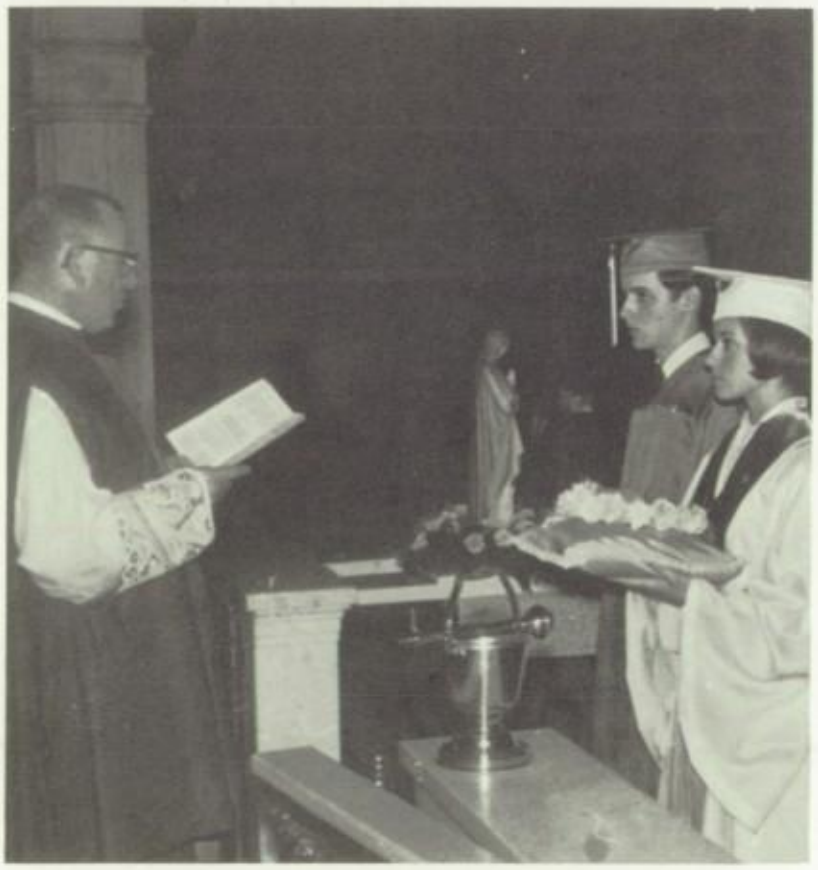
Before the altar of Mary, each girl places a rose to make a bouquet as Carol Wheatley is doing.

Graduates listen as Msgr. Hebbler speaks.



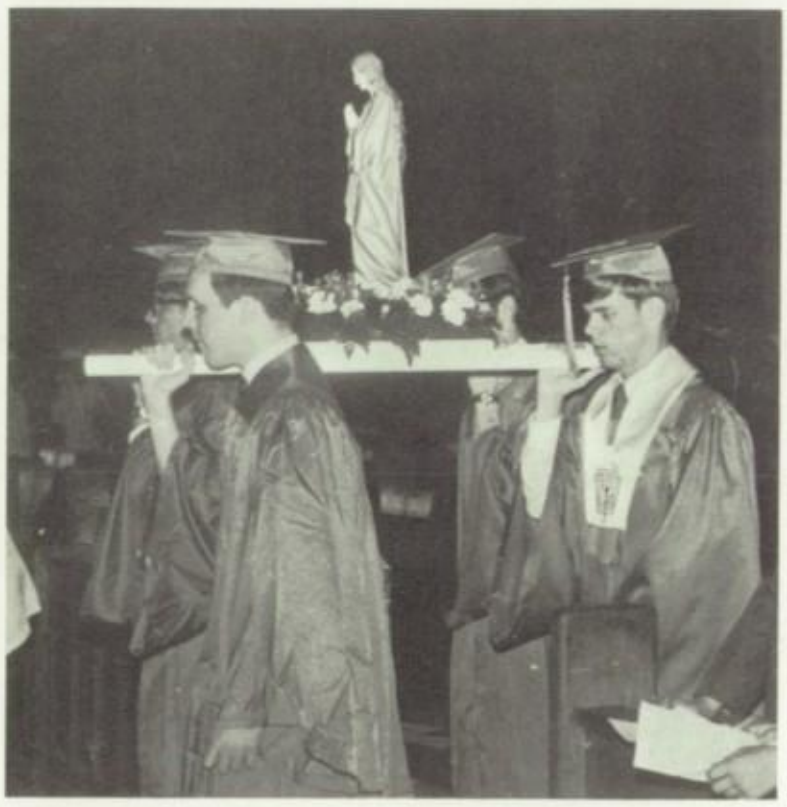
An attendant of Maureen's is Cathy Wiegman escorted by Ted Mecurio.

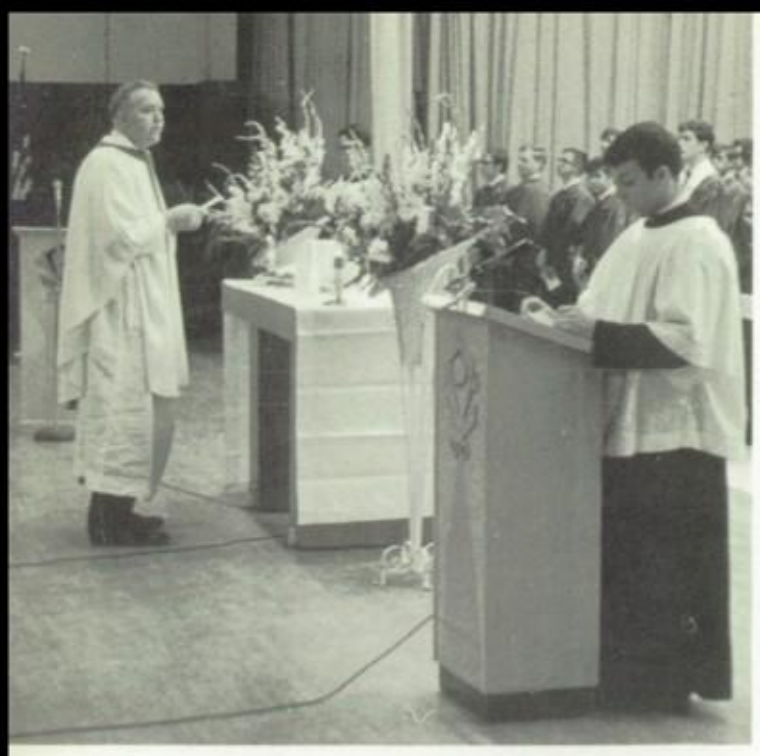
Graduates recess following Benediction.



Another attendant of Maureen's is Ann Wala, escorted by Jim Subich, carrying the crown which Msgr. Hebbler blesses.

Four senior boys carry the Blessed Virgin during the procession.



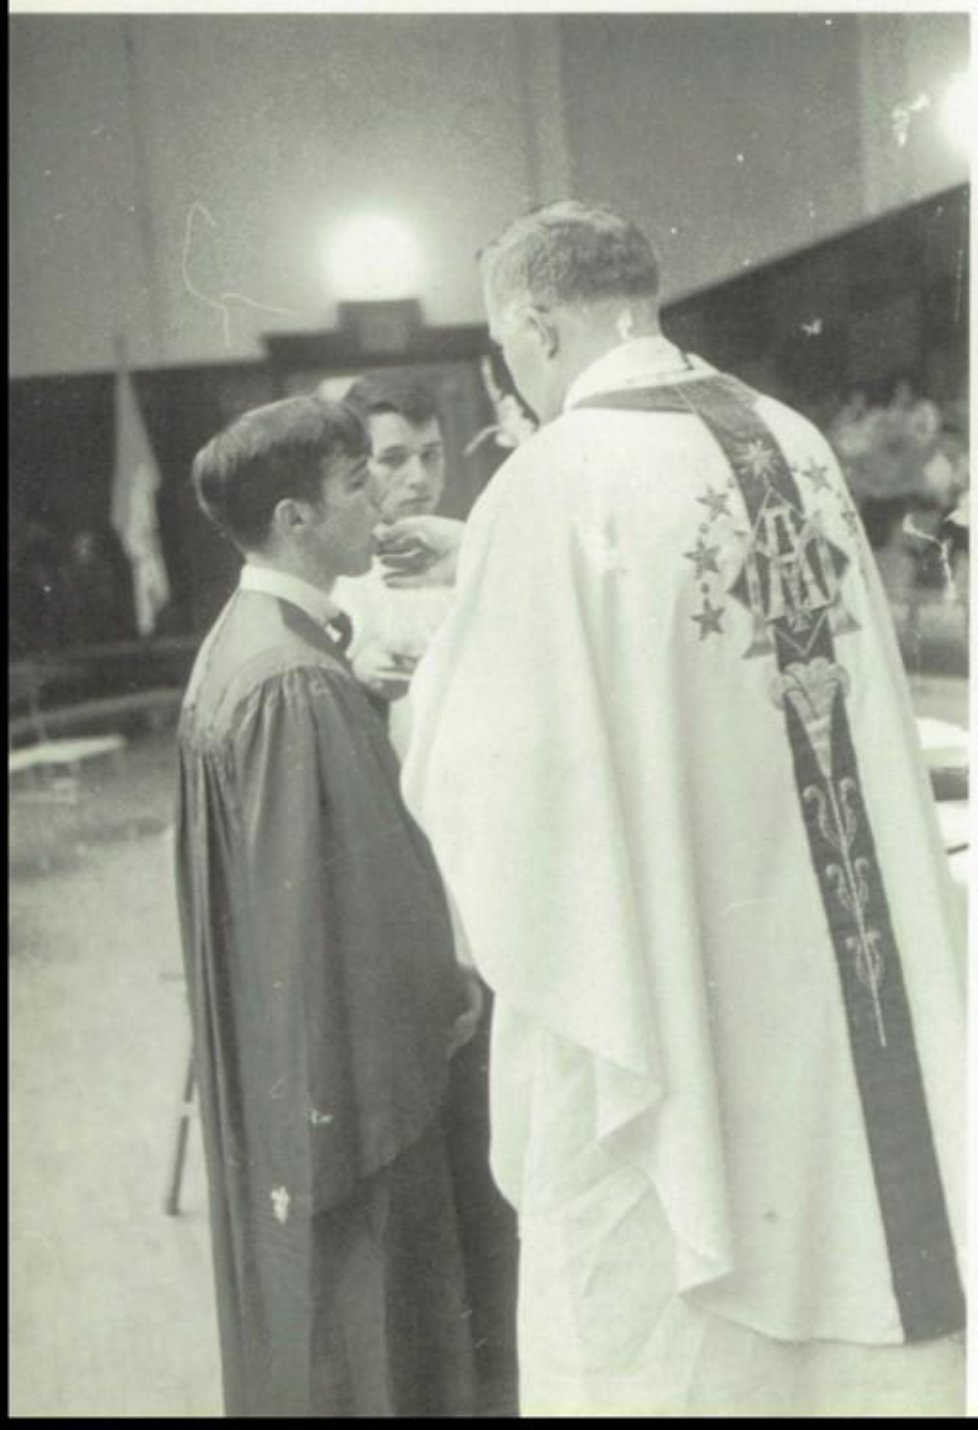


Server Rick Erdenberger acts as lector during mass.

Breakfast followed the mass.

BACCALAUREATE REFLECTS SERIOUSNESS

Communion is given to Bill LeBlanc by Father Siefker.



Graduation activities for 107 students included a Baccalaureate Mass and breakfast in the morning of graduation.

The Baccalaureate Mass, offered by Fr. James Siefker, principal, was held in the high school auditorium at 8:45. A breakfast followed in the cafeteria, hosted by the Junior Class.

The Baccalaureate Mass is offered by Principal Father Siefker.

YEARS OF WORK END AT GRADUATION

Foreign exchange student Angelica Beremedo accepts her diploma from Msgr. Hebbeler.

Graduation exercises began when Mary Hogan, salutatorian, welcomed parents and guests.

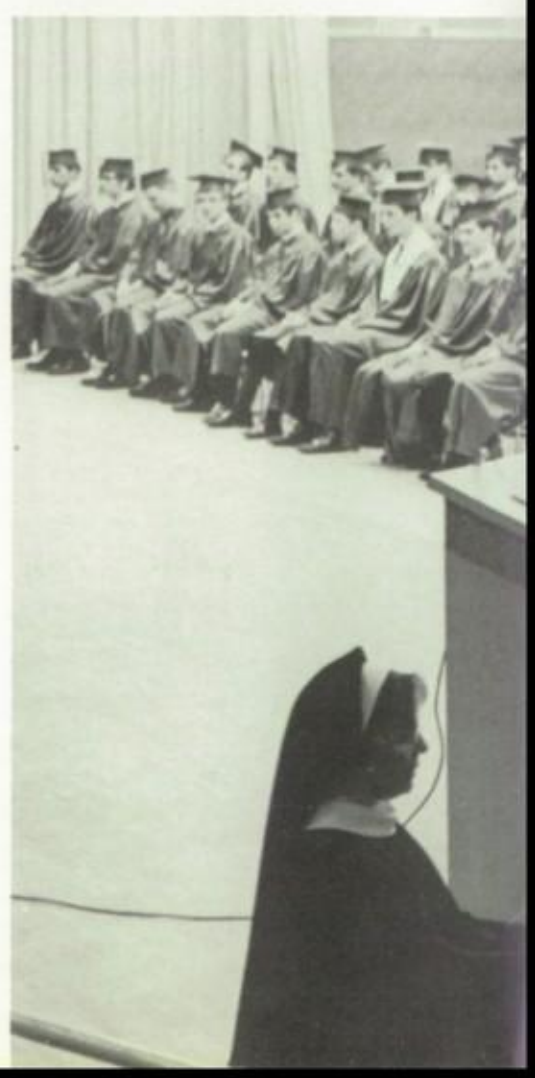
Diplomas were awarded by Msgr. James Hebbeler, pastor, and Fr. Siefker.

Valedictorian Harry Levins addressed the assembly.

The guest speaker was Brother James Heft, co-director of the Pope John XXIII Center for Christian Renewal, Dayton, Ohio.

Valedictorian Harry Levins addresses guests of graduates.

Guest speaker Brother Jim Heft speaks at commencement.



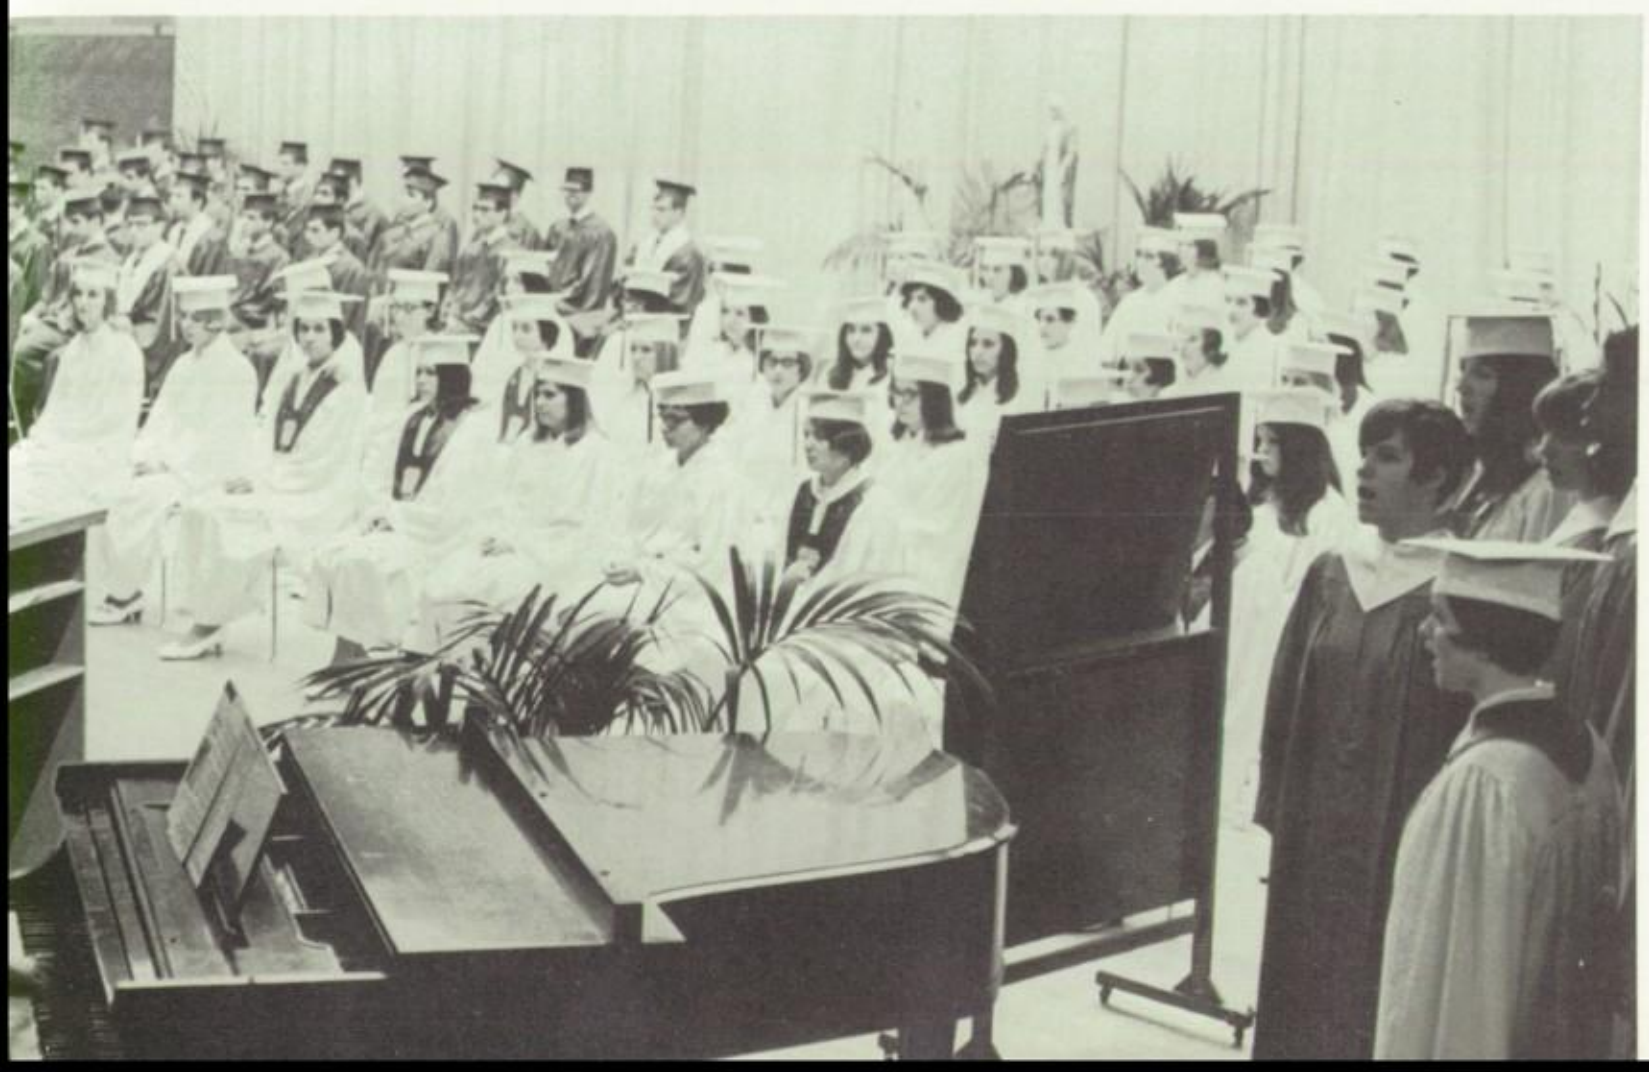
SENIORS

The Class of 1968 had the usual senior calendar with almost all activities in the final three weeks.

The Class Play proved to be a success. Speech II students were given the opportunity to display their dramatic talents.

Outstanding students were honored at an assembly, followed by Baccalaureate on Sunday.

Graduation was reward for the years of hard work.



JUNIOR OFFICERS LEAD CLASS INTO SENIOR YEAR

The Junior year is a very important year. The students prepare themselves for their Senior year. They pick out their class rings which is a symbol of leadership. They have a candy sale to build up their treasury. Their services are volunteered for the Seniors at different events. Their talent is shown in the Variety Show, Christmas Assembly and Fine Arts Program. Their spirit is displayed in sports as well as in school. Junior year is a busy year . . . It's an exciting year . . . It's one of recognition!

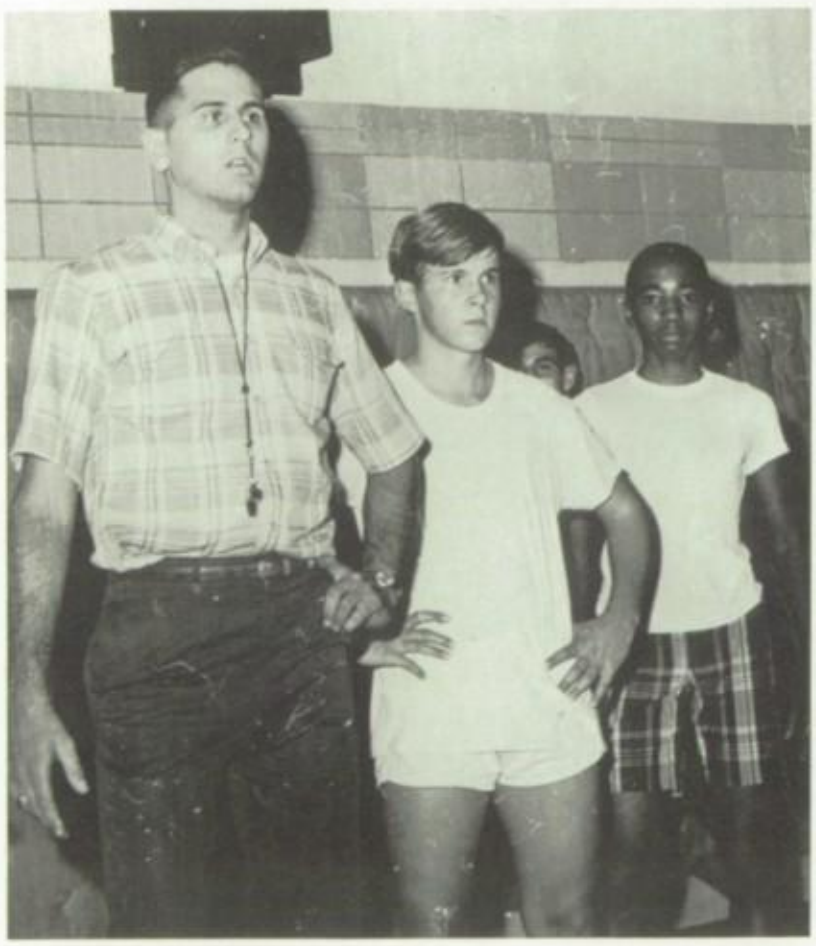
UNDERCLASSMEN



The Underclassmen tell the story of the school. These students plan for future careers and work hard with the teachers. They also make friends in the halls and sometimes use their study halls to complete assignments. After their last class, they make a final rush to the dance that night. Freshmen through Juniors take part in all school affairs. The cry "We're Number One" not only refers to basketball but also to Science.

Sophomore year is crammed with new subjects and activities. Sophomores are no longer considered "new" in school.

Subjects such as Biology and Geometry show their ability to comprehend. They are great sport enthusiasts and support their team. They travelled all over the state to various Science Fairs. With the freshmen, they sponsored the successful Mardi-Gras Dance.

The class of '70 is responsible, loyal, and cooperative with the rest of the school. They get things done.

FRESHMEN OFFICERS GUIDE CLASS THROUGH FIRST YEAR

The Freshmen officers are Steve Rath, Margo Malaska, Andrea Kmetz, and Mickey Frye.

The first year of high school is usually the hardest. It takes time to adjust to the daily schedule. The Freshmen Welcome Dance, sponsored by the rest of the school, made it easier for the freshmen to become a part of the school.

The class of '71 is a very important part of the school. They elect officers, support their own basketball team, and partake in ever so many activities.

They are confused by algebraic equations, interested in foreign languages, and impressed by their first taste of gym.

Freshmen year is a time of getting acquainted. They build toward further knowledge. They are usually considered last in line but in "unity" they are Number One.

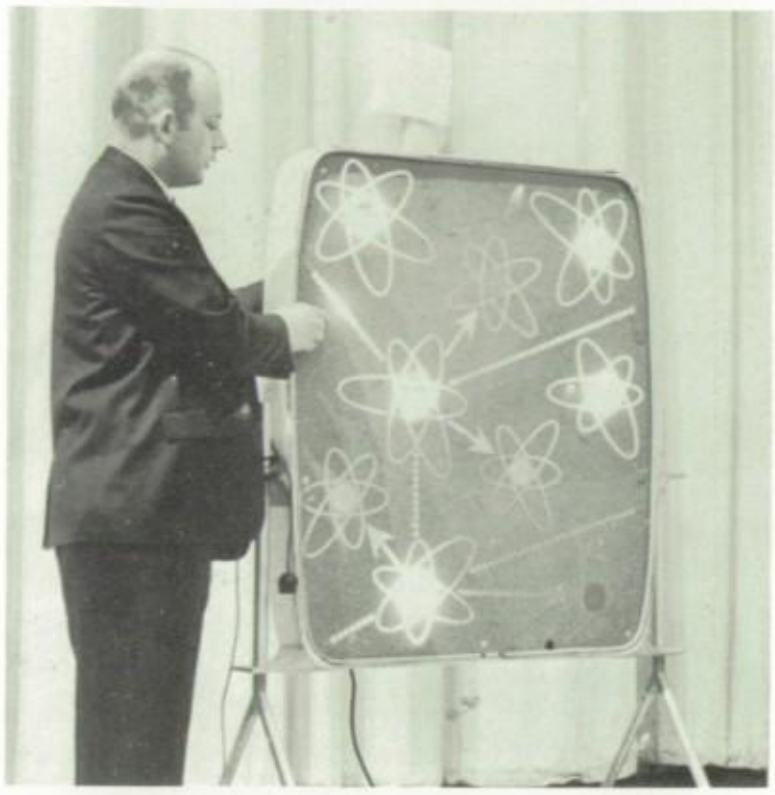
ACTIVITIES



Activities dot the calendar of the school year and provide entertainment while often increasing knowledge. The Variety Show, Fine Arts Evening and Senior Class Play gave vent to the creative talent of virtually every student in the school. Assemblies brought many interesting demonstrations to St. Peter's and the Science Fair encouraged individuals to reveal themselves.

"Just For Variety" was presented November 26, with all classes participating. Nineteen acts traced entertainments progress from slapstick comedy to the current folk music rage. Skits and dance routines highlighted the evening and the Boy's Ballet was an hilarious smash.

AN EVENING WITH THE FINE ARTS PRESENTED APRIL 27 AND 28

The colorful artistic designs intrigue Debbie Hecht.

Love was the theme of the Fine Arts Evening. It was divided into phases being music, drama and art. Under the direction of Sr. Laurelle, the Glee Club sang several show tunes while the Junior Chorus and Ensemble picked selections from their repertoire. The drama presentation, under the direction of Mrs. Donald Garrett, ranged from early Greek drama to modern day melodrama. Displays of art work and art appreciation brought crowds during intermission.

Behind the scenes, the make-up committee, Audrey Pfeifer, Emmy Gassaway, Pam Perl and Carol Mott ready cast members, John Flood, Judd Jensen, Judy Phillips, and Tom Kulka for opening night.

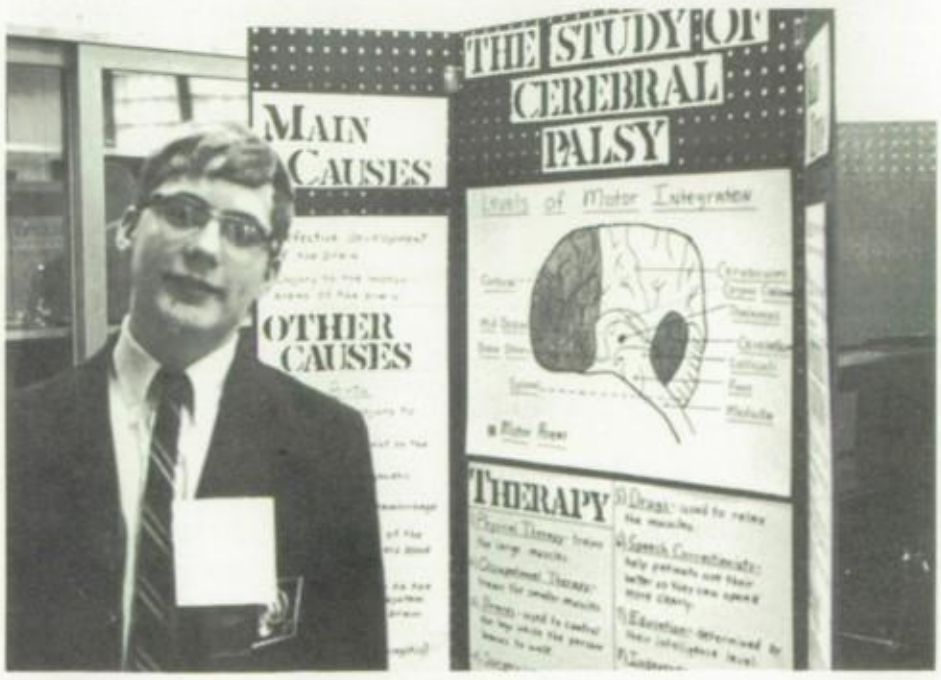
Organization is an important part in a Science Fair.

Print, art work, encyclopedias and imagination make a good exhibit.

Happy with the results of the judging, Andy Wiles realizes his time was well spent.



While the judge looks over the exhibit, Mike Hickey ponders over what to say next.

'68 SCIENCE FAIR THEME: REVEAL YOURSELF

To convince the judge is half the effort involved as shown by Tim Brown.

FLU VIRUS

At the eleventh Annual St. Peter's Science Fair held on March tenth, 58 superiors, 62 excellents, 13 goods, and 2 satisfactories were given. St. Peter's students received further recognition for their science achievements as eighteen received superior in the Mohican District Fair at Ashland on March 30, and three at the State Science Day in Columbus, April 6. Those receiving top ratings at State Science Day were: Carol Cashell, Judith Graham, and Leonard Quick.

ORGANIZATIONS

What keeps a school going? What makes it interesting? One word—Organizations. Each person has his own hobbies and talents and knows his definition of fun. In an organization, the members share a common idea and gain further knowledge from each other. Clubs range from journalism to music, helping others to improving yourself. An organization can remain a success only if the people involved participate.

The entire staff gathers to discuss page layouts.

Thursday at 3 o'clock. This was the practice time for the girl's ensemble. It was during this time that the girls, under the supervision of Sister Laurelle, prepared songs for school programs. Their repertoire included light Christmas carols to beautiful operatic songs. Their greatest performance was Graduation day when two graduates sang with the ensemble for the last time.

Under the direction of Sister Laurelle, The girls perform before a live audience.

The purpose of YCS is to bring young people together to discuss the new arising problems of or in their religion.

Valuable time was later donated in babysitting by these students each Sunday, during 10:30 Mass, in the high school sewing room. They continue this service throughout the school year and summer months. Their main objective was to teach little children, between the ages of two and five, the love of God and neighbor. Several students attended a Spring conference to learn more and interesting methods of Sunday education.

PHOTO CLUB

G. Butler, J. Subich, D. Kline, S. Ulm, J. Bernard, and K. Scodova.

With the ability to develop and print pictures, the boys of the photo club made pictures for The Key as well as The Petrarchan. They took the time and effort to come up with ideas and suggestions for different kinds of pictures. In order to print a picture right they made several copies. This enabled the Key Staff and Annual Staff to decide which ones they wanted. The boys played an important part because photography was the main objective in the annual.

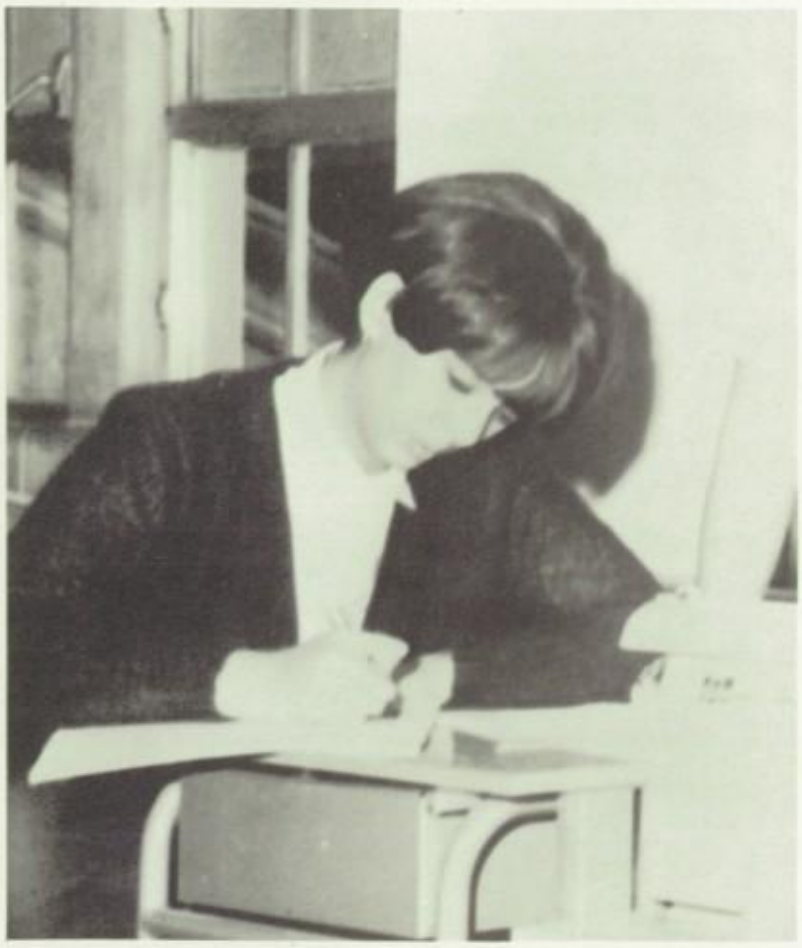
SCAPAN '68, a literary magazine composed by the Quill and Scroll members, was a great success. Extra hours after school plus class time went into it. The magazine was made up of poems, short stories, and art work. It was published in order to show the literary talent of the students of St. Peter's High School.



Anxious to get finished, Joan Passerini adds final touches to a short sotry.

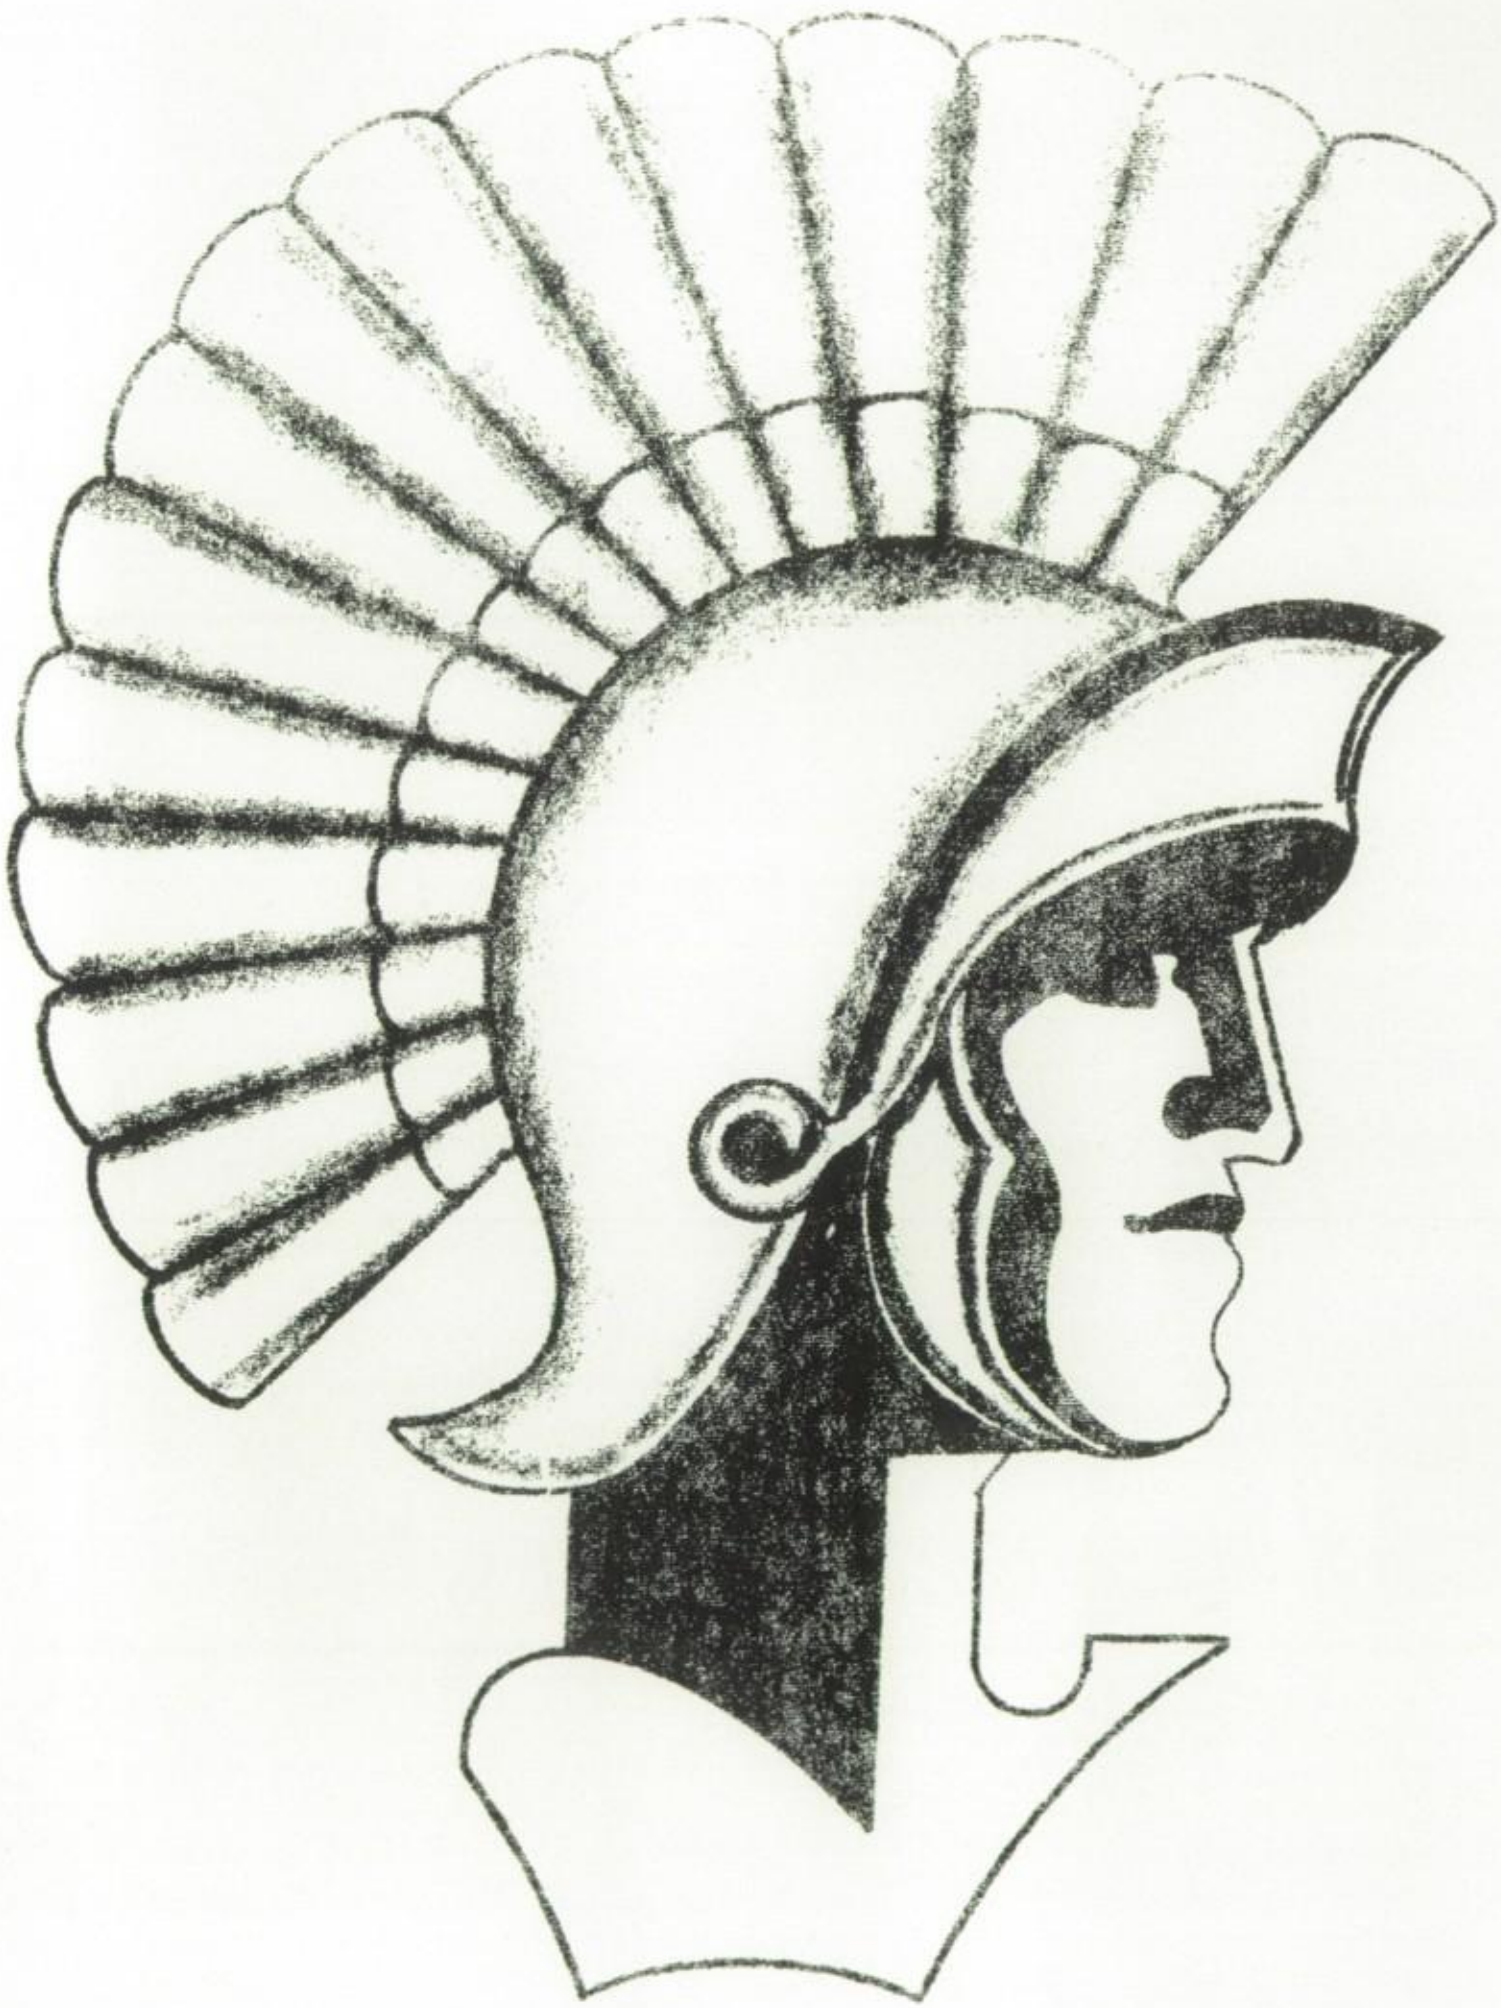
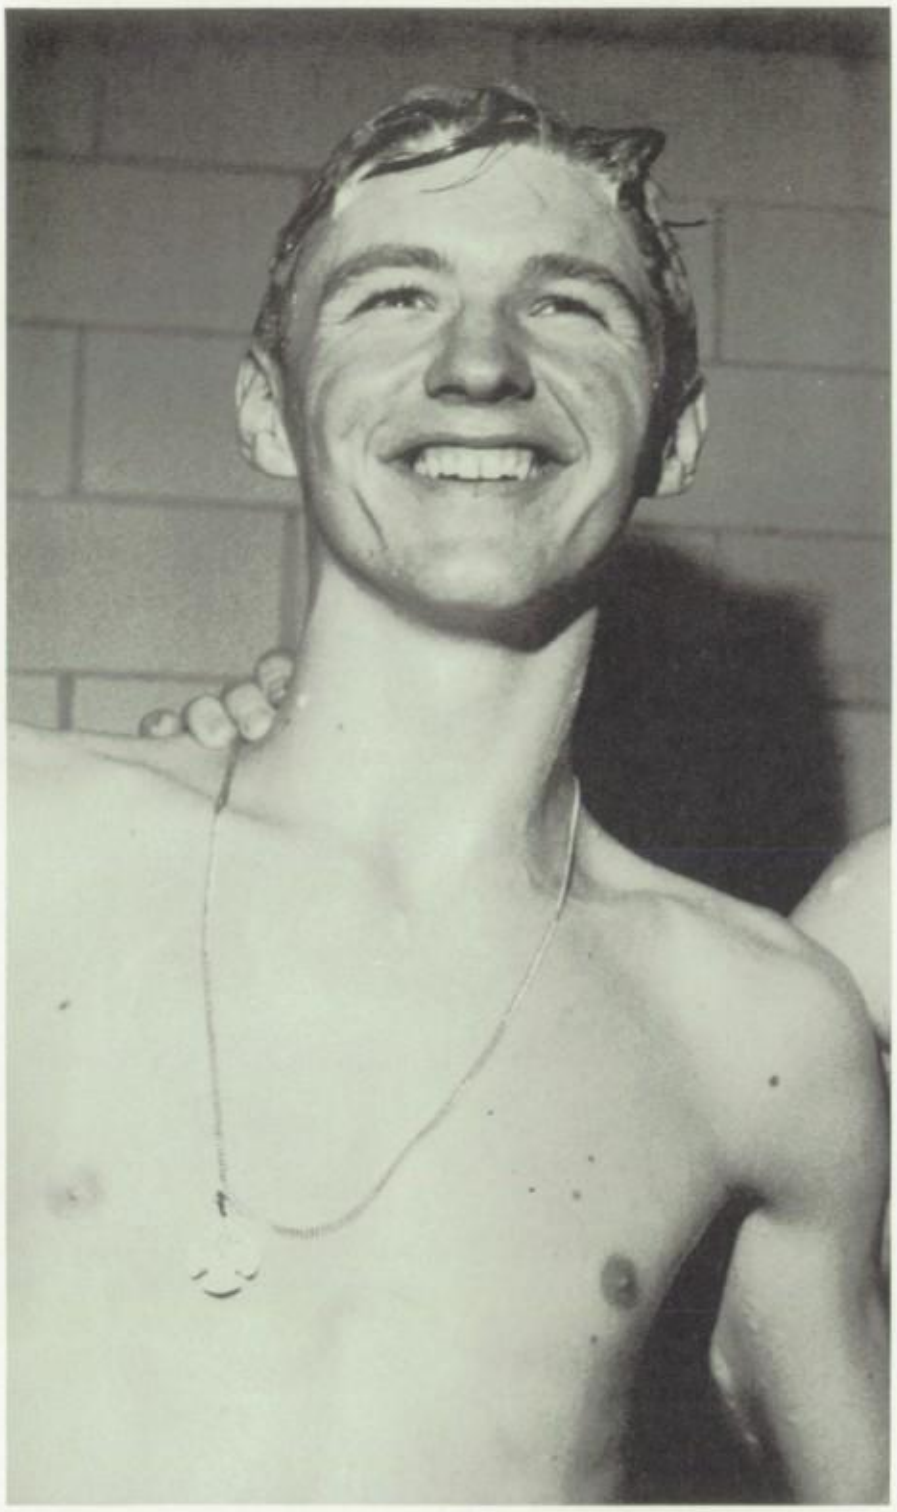
SPORTS





Give a very important yell! That's what makes a game worthwhile, whether it be basketball, tennis, or baseball. Sports is determined not only by the players of the game but also by the spirit behind them. Spartan spirit has grown through the years eventually to the State Championship. There it overflowed!

"68" STATE CHAMPIONS

"1968 Year of the Spartan", "Spartans to State in 68", "Fe, Fi, Fo, Fum—State Tourney, Here We Come!" These were just a few of the cheers which backed the "68" Class "A" State Champions.

The Spartans finished regular season play with 17 wins and 3 defeats, then topping the tournament trail with a 9 and 0 record to end up with a 26 wins and 3 defeats slate.

The Spartans ended the regular season averaging 80 points per game, with a 79 point per game average for tournament play.

The State Champs had little trouble capturing the sectional crown as they dominated the three sectional games, downing Buckeye Central 79 to 51. The Spartans handed Plymouth their third and final loss of their campaign by beating them 58 to 45. The sectional finals was another runaway as the Spartans beat Milan 95 to 67.

The District crown was a little harder to come by as St. Pete's had to play two games. The first saw the Spartans set a new school tournament record for points scored in one game by stopping Attica 100 to 69. The District finals saw the Spartans meet their toughest test of the tournament trail by downing Wynford on a ten foot jump shot by Doug Alt with ten seconds showing on the clock, with the final score 57 to 55.

Entering Regional play St. Pete's met the challenge once more by bouncing State-ranked Convoy Crestview, 65 to 51. In the Regional finals the Spartans had a fast and scrappy Kalida team to battle, with the Spartans on top again by downing the Wildcats 82 to 46.

In the State Semi-Finals the Spartans were put to the test when they met second-ranked Western of Pike County. The Spartans again proved their domination by handing them their first defeat of the year 73 to 70.

The dream of every high school team came to be a reality before a capacity crowd at St. John's Arena when the Spartans ended their tenth season by dominating the State Championship game and stopping Springfield Local with a 23 point margin in a score of 73 to 50.

This was the first State Championship for St. Peter's in their ten year history. Besides receiving State recognition, the Spartans also received National recognition as they were ranked twelfth among all Catholic schools in the Nation.

"The thrill of VICTORY"
"The agony of defeat."

Capitalization on a fast break is made by Doug Alt.

Boys Have Best Spring Record

This year's all-underclassmen tennis team carried the only winning record of the three spring sports teams. The Spartan netters end the season with an outstanding 7—2 record.

The only two losses were suffered at the hands of Senior High 6—1 and 7—0. The seven victories were over Ashland 4—3 and 6—1, Lexington 6—1 and 7—0, Madison 6—1, Shelby 4—3, and defeating Madison for the second time 6—1.

For the first time in the history of St. Peter's High School the tennis team advanced beyond the sectional tournament with Andy Wiles carrying the Spartan name into the District tournament.

At the Spring Sports Banquet Andy Wiles sophomore was selected Most Valuable tennis player while Bill Ehalt sophomore was selected the Most Improved.

TENNIS GOES CO-ED

Girls Open First Season

The newly organized St. Peter's girl's tennis team compiled a record of 2 wins and 0 losses for the 1968 season.

The St. Peter's girls tennis team played a series of matches with Mansfield Senior High and Malabar High.

The members of the team in order of their positions are Anne Saprano, Sandy Reindl, Sharon Moyer, Rene Coleman, and Mary Ellen Walter. Other members of the team include Pat O'Donnell, Cindy Steele, Fran Chillimi, and Bobby Carbetta, Alternates are Sue Moritz and Vicki Jensen.

The Coach of the girls tennis team was Mrs. Mary Saprano, who together with Mrs. Robert Butler, physical education teacher, choose the members who made up the Spartan girls.

The Spartan girls blanked Mansfield Senior High 6—0 and Malabar 6—0.

Advertisements and Patrons provide financial support for the annual. Therefore, there is a reserved section in the book for them. Instead of just print in the ads, we have added pictures to make it more interesting in knowing who your merchants are. We have divided the patrons into three sections: Gold Patrons, Silver Patrons, and Blue and White Patrons. Thanks so much for your donations. It has made this annual possible.

The End of Just a Beginning!

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Since the beginning of October, bits of paste and cardboard with the help of scissors and pencils enabled the annual to come to life. Although it has taken a considerable length of time to put it together, it was just a beginning for us. The undertaking of the annual has ended for the staff but it will grow through the years.

I would like to thank our advisor Mrs. Michael Peerenboom for all the help with the writing, pasting, and other advice on the yearbook.

Much help was donated by Mr. Earl Parks, the American Yearbook consultant. His personal time was given in taking advertisement pictures as well as school pictures.

Thanks to the generous help of Buell-Kraft, the organizations turned out great!

I also want to acknowledge all the students who offered to have their pictures taken for the ads.

And, lastly, to my staff, for all the hours spent in putting the annual together.
